

HOW TO BETTER MANAGE SUPPLIER RISKS AND COMPLIANCE

CHALLENGES FACED BY YOUR COMPANY

Outsourcing has valuable benefits for many organizations. The practice provides you with access to external expertise and enables you to focus on core business concerns. It represents a growing trend in the industry. However, outsourcing does not come without risk.

Does your company have the knowledge and proper system for managing supplier compliance efficiently, cost-effectively and securely?

Effective supplier management entails the rigorous monitoring of a host of factors relating to supplier compliance, and requires expertise, as well as considerable human and financial resources.

Supplier management is a complex process which involves identifying good suppliers, flagging riskier ones and locating those able to provide the services required in compliance with the financial constraints and standards of the hiring organization.

All companies that hire suppliers face these same challenges. The most vigilant adopt risk and supplier compliance management solutions based on sectoral best practices.

WHY OPTIMIZE SUPPLIER MANAGEMENT?

Ensure Compliance and Reduce Risks

All companies must comply with myriad administrative and regulatory standards and requirements. Non-compliance can significantly impact matters relating to health and safety, and environmental protection.

Safeguard Your Reputation

Supplier reliability and work quality are key to ensuring profitability and sustaining your company's reputation. As the organization legally responsible for supplier performance, you must demonstrate due diligence in matters of supplier selection and prequalification.

Reduce Your Administrative Load

Considerable time and energy is required to manage tasks and paperwork relating to supplier compliance, resulting in higher direct costs. Supplier management mobilizes resources who would be more effective were they able to focus on tasks linked to your company's primary mission.

Better Control Your Costs

The probability of loss of control and cost overruns increases as supplier numbers grow, just as lost time and revenue mount as a result of delays, environmental incidents, fines and penalties, lawsuits, and insurance and worker contribution costs.

THE COGNIBOX MODULES

Our modules enable you to manage all aspects of outsourcing effectively, including risk and compliance management in areas such as occupational health and safety, the environment, sustainable development, quality and regulatory requirements.
